No Easy Answers: Legal and Ethical Considerations for Caregivers and Professionals Facing Difficult Situations

Presented by: Chris Brannon, JD and Paul Black, JD; Founding Partners- Brannon + Black, LLC

With the diverse and complex family dynamics that are present today, it is increasingly difficult to support our clients while taking into consideration both our own professional ethics and the laws that guide medical decisions. There are so many “gray” situations that must be decided by a “black and white” system. In this interesting and informative presentation, elder law attorneys Chris Brannon and Paul Black will review the laws and ethics that dictate decision making in healthcare. Decision making under Georgia’s Medical Consent Statute, right to self-determination (with a focus on advance directives) and laws re: access to medical records are some of the areas that will be covered in this presentation. Reviewing complex case studies, participants will apply different ethical standards and be engaged in real life scenarios while learning how difficult decisions are made.

Agenda:

- 5:00 – 5:30 pm Registration/Networking/Complimentary Dinner
- 6:00 – 7:00 pm Presentation

By attending our workshop, you will be able to:

1. Explore the extent and limits of common incapacity planning documents, and identify at least 2 ways in which these documents can and cannot be used in difficult caregiving situations.
2. State 2 ethical guidelines regarding a patient's right to self-determination in a variety of difficult circumstances in which these rights may be challenged..
